A Message From A Man of Malvern

It pains me to know that Malvern's mission has been severely disrupted. I look forward to my retreat every year and the thought of possibly missing it is very sad. The beautiful grounds where my father and I would walk together over many years are now empty. The gathering places of fraternity such as the Dining Hall and Lower McShain are silent. Retreatants who enjoy seeing each other once a year for their annual retreat are separated. Yet despite all the sadness and fear around us, I know we can look to Malvern for hope. I encourage you all to persevere...We are experiencing these challenging times together; and together we will make it through this crisis.
